Rising impressively from its lush, landscaped surrounds this home is the culmination of a brilliant collaboration between client, architect and builder.

Bold in design, the steel, glass and formed concrete elements balance perfectly to create a structure that is both pleasing to the eye and sympathetic to the surrounding environment.

Key to the design philosophy is the intimate and effortless transition between casual living zones and the beautifully landscaped grounds, offering welcome privacy.

Broadside to the north, the curtain wall of glass beckons the winter sun deep into every space creating both a deliciously warm living environment and cinematic visual experience of an exquisite and constantly changing foreshore and Pittwater beyond.
